“THE NEWS”

CASA OF WEST CENLA

Words from the Director

As summer ends, I extend my warmest wishes to the Fort Johnson, Beauregard Parish and Vernon Parish communities for an exciting new school year. This time brings fresh starts and new opportunities for learning and growth. Our children will have the opportunity to develop and continue friendships that can last a lifetime.

I admire the dedication of families and educators. Your efforts will create a nurturing and stimulating environment for our children. This year creates another great opportunity for the growth and education of our children. Our community has a history of producing incredible community members, community leaders and strong families.

Students embrace this academic year with enthusiasm and an open mind. Your hard work and dedication will pave the way for a bright future.

Parents and guardians, thank you for your unwavering support. Your involvement is crucial to your children's success. Stay engaged and support your children as they navigate this journey.

Educators and staff, your passion and dedication form the foundation of our school community. We are grateful for your commitment to our students' growth and well-being.

CASA Volunteers, Board Members and staff, you all are essential to the strength of our community. You play an important role as you advocate for children that are assigned to CASA of West CenLA.

Let us work together to create a positive, respectful, and collaborative atmosphere. Here's to a fantastic start to the school year filled with hope, learning, and success.

~Tommy

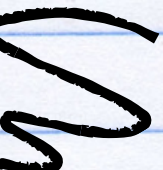

SUPERVISOR TIPS

CASA Information Gathering Checklist

Part 2

Interaction with Caregiver:

Get specific information from foster parent about the child's daily life and about the child's behavior related to:

Child's daily functioning

- Behavior: problems and strengths
 - Details of children's services and any barriers to participation
 - Contacts made by parent through letters, phone calls, etc.
 - Child's adjustment to separation and loss Activities, extracurriculars
 - Child's sleeping habits
 - Child's eating habits
 - How does the child behave around pets?
 - Child's interactions with other household members
 - Child's school performance and attitude toward school
 - Adjustments in school
 - Does the caregiver report any concerns or outstanding needs?
 - Do caregivers work? Is after school care required? What are the details? Daycare?
 - Caregiver's views on permanency (at the appropriate time later in the case)

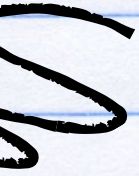

22

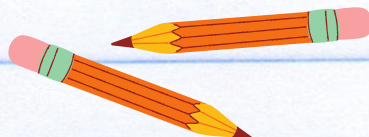

Medical records & resources

- Does caregiver have a current medical card for the child?
- Is the caregiver in touch with any medical specialists?
- Does the caregiver have a copy of the child's current medical records?
- Has the caregiver identified a "medical home" for the child (a consistent primary care provider who sees and knows the child over time)?
- Medication
- Details of meds and dosing.
- Next psychiatrist appointment

Health Status

- Physical health: immunizations, well visit status, DCFS required medical exams, medical issues

Educational Advocacy

When children come into foster care they lose about 3 months worth of education for each foster home move they make. They have to get used to a new family, new school, and new friends. A CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) volunteer role is crucial in supporting children, especially when it comes to their education. Children with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) or 504 plans require special attention to ensure they receive the necessary accommodations and services in school. Tutoring can be a valuable resource for these children, providing them with the extra help they need to succeed academically. Advocating for their educational rights involves working closely with school staff, attending meetings, and ensuring that the child's needs are being met according to their IEP or 504 plan. The dedication of an advocate can make a significant difference in the educational outcomes for these children, helping them to achieve their full potential.
